Result of Removal Of Stilwell After Demands Made by Generalissimo

CHUNGKING, Oct. 31.—(P)—Maj. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer arrived in Chungking this afternoon to assume the post of commander of American forces in China, recently relinquished by Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell on his recall to Washington.

Wedemeyer was greeted at the airport by Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, Chinese foreign minister; Maj. Gen. Patrick Hurley, President Roosevelt's personal representative in Chungking; Lt. Gen. Carton De Wiart, Prime Minister Churchill's representative; and Maj. Gen. Thomas G. Hearn, who was chief of staff in the former China-Burma-India command.

General Ho was the first to welcome Wedemeyer. Wedemeyer hailed Wiart with "Hello, Carton." Wiart replied: "Jolly good to see you."

The new commander told correspondents "This (job) only came to me on Wednesday x x x. I don't know what it's all about."

By Preston Grover
NEW DELHI, Oct. 31.—(P)—The removal of General Joseph W. Stilwell as commander in the China-India-Burma theater, it can be reported today resulted from a combination of strategy and diplomacy such as could arise only in the Orient.

It is possible only today to get further details passed through censorship.

The abrupt new shaping of the whole American position in this part of the world war front began with the arrival in Chungking two months ago of Maj. Gen. Patrick Hurley and Donald M. Nelson, both carrying vast powers designed to get from China some solid commitments for increased cooperation with America in the war against Japan.

The Associated Press is informed that the commitments were given virtually under threat of American withdrawal of her support of Chiang's government.

In turn, the Associated Press was informed under circumstances leaving no doubt as to its accuracy, a last minute softening in the American attitude resulted in an agreement for the withdrawal of Stilwell as supreme commander in the CBI theater as a face-saving and pacifying gesture demanded by the generalissimo.

Strange Shakeup

So large are official "leaks" in Chungking and other Chinese political and military circles that major portions of the story of this strange shakeup in the war against Japan were known within hours after the events occurred. As related to the Associated Press Hurley and Nelson explained to Chiang that there was much disappointment over the failure of the central government to come to an agreement with the Communists in the north so that both they and the central government troops now blockading them could be brought against the Japanese in China.

Among the requests were: First, that Chiang should reorganize his cabinet and eliminate reactionary obstructionists and anti-foreign members.

Second, that an American general be placed in command of the Chinese operations not only in Burma but elsewhere in major operations against the Japanese.

During early conversations, it evidently was assumed on both sides that Gen. Stilwell was to be American commander.

No Part in Negotiations

Stilwell was no party to the negotiations although he evidently was kept informed on the major steps.

The terms were put to Chiang very forcefully, in some instances backed by specific messages from President Roosevelt. Some stormy scenes followed. Chiang, as was expected, refused to dissolve or reorganize his cabinet, although he accepted other conditions with the tacit admission that some of his commanders on the major fighting fronts in central China were not so hot.

Then came an odd change in the proceedings.

Chiang himself became stubborn and it was discovered that H. H. Kung, his finance minister, visiting in the United States, was telegraphing him that the president was not supporting the stern position taken by his two representatives.

Chillicothe Man Has Unusual Offer

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 31.—(P)—Walter Jackson of Chillicothe has offered $1,000 to "any farmer who can advance one sane, sensible reason why the farmers should vote against the Roosevelt administration," the Democratic state committee said today.

More Deaths in England from Robots

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(P)—A flying bomb destroyed a small hotel in southern England early today, killed at least five persons and injured many more of the 35 guests, including several children. Five bodies were recovered.

Houses nearby were blasted and windows were blown out of an orphanage from which all children had been removed. Antiaircraft guns threw up a terrific barrage. Thousands of families in East Anglia took shelter as the ground shook from the guns. Several bombs were blown up in flight.

Campaign In Missouri Into High Gear

Both Parties Have Out-of-State Speakers In Rural Areas

By the Associated Press

Missouri's political campaign went into high gear last night with both Democratic and Republican out-of-state speakers appearing in the rural areas in an effort to win the border "Show Me" state.

Gov. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, a Republican, addressed an audience estimated at 800 at the state college auditorium at Cape Girardeau, asserting the average yearly national income as a whole and the average yearly income to agriculture were higher under 12 years of Republican administration than under eight years of new deal.

Representative J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, author of the first congressional world peace resolution, told Boone county Democrats that if Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, is elected that his election would be interpreted by "our Allies as notice that this country for a second time has refused to participate in an international organization."

Gave Statistics
Governor Hickenlooper told his Cape Girardeau audience that "official government statistics" show the average net income to agriculture for the 12 years, 1921-32, was $4,648,000,000 and for the eight peacetime new deal years, less subsidies, was $3,803,000,000.

"The same comparable reduction and shrinkage in national income during the eight peacetime years of the new deal as compared to the eight Republican years of 1921-28, inclusive, is apparent," the Iowa governor asserted.

"From 1921 to 1928," he said,

Germans Evacuating Troops from Norway

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 31.—(P)—The Germans are evacuating some troops from Norway, informants here said last night, but are leaving behind garrisons strong enough to make any Allied invasion as costly as possible.

Police Appeal To Pranksters

Hallowe'en pranksters can have fun, but destruction of property "IS OUT" it was announced by Chief of Police Anson Finnell, this morning. So far "trick or treat" groups have been calling at various residents the past several nights and calls for the police have been made, but nothing of a serious nature has resulted from these calls, for which the property owners are grateful.

The American Legion auxiliary police, of which Cecil Glenn is the chief, will be on duty tonight assisting the regular police force in patrolling the city, and officers on the day shift will also work during the early hours tonight.

Calling attention to the activity of a year ago, Chief Finnell stated excellent cooperation had resulted between Hallowe'en celebrators and the police, with little, if any, serious property damage resulting.

Due to present day conditions, damage which might occur, cannot easily be repaired, because of the shortage of material, and labor is hardly available. Chief Finnell is appealing to the Hallowe'eners to cooperate with property owners and the police this year.

Parliament Should Be Retained

Churchill Tells Commons, Caution War May Continue Until End of 1946

By Alex H. Singleton

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill cautioned Commons today that the war against Germany might last into next summer and that against Japan until the end of 1946.

He made these predictions, emphasizing they were subject to changing conditions, in calling for the retention of Britain's nine-year parliament and warborn coalition of government, without an election.

"The coalition of parties ought not to be broken before Nazism is broken," he said.

There were immediate indications that Commons would string along with Churchill. Arthur Greenwood, prominent in the labor party's councils, endorsed extension of prolongation of parliament for a year, but he served notice that Churchill's government would not be free from controversy in coming months.

Greenwood also made it clear labor's ranks would oppose extension of the coalition government until Japan was defeated. He argued that it would be against national interest to prolong Parliament "until the whole of this desperate struggle is tied up."

Might Break Politically
Churchill held out hope that "political convulsion in Germany may bring the war to a speedy end at any time."

But, in almost the same breath, he warned that against that possibility "must be set the iron curtain of German life in all its forms, including the army which has been established by Hitler's storm troops and secret police."

"This," said Churchill flatly, "exceeds anything previously known among men."

"I certainly could not predict—still less guarantee—the end of the German war before the end of the spring or even before we reach early summer. It may come earlier, and no one will rejoice more than I if it should."

At another point, he asserted: "On military grounds alone it would not be prudent to assume that a shorter period than 18 (Please turn to Page 4, Column 5)

The meeting at Washington school will be called at 8 o'clock. There will be a radio and the audience will first listen to Dewey's talk. Candidates will be introduced, then Mr. Keiter will speak.

Pie and coffee will be served, those in charge stating that a large number of Republican workers in the ward spent the morning making pies.

Leonard Fall, county chairman, will open the meeting, and assisting in presiding will be the ward committeeman and committeewoman, E. L. Zoellig and Mrs. William Fewell.

Music will be furnished by the Happy Miller boys.

German Army Retreating From Holland

Allies Will Soon Have the Use of Port of Antwerp

By William Frye

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(P)—British troops chasing the Germans from southwestern Holland reached the Maas river today, and speared within half a mile of the Geerttrudenberg bridge, one of the main spans of the enemy's fog-shrouded escape over the river.

The British wing struck to the Maas due north of Tilburg, while Canadian forces westward nearer the coast lost contact with the Germans fleeing to the river and the Hollandsch Diep.

Highways below the river where black with German transports, and motor columns six to 12 miles long had formed up at the Moerdijk and Willemstad bridge and ferry crossings 19 and 18 miles west of Geerttrudenberg. Fog saved them from a lashing by Allied planes.

Heavy, seessaw fighting raged on the eastern flank in Holland, where strong German armored blows had been halted. Allied troops had regained part of Liezel one of two towns lost to the German drive.

Take 2,500 Prisoners
Canadians fought on the causeway to Walcheren island, last sapper to opening Antwerp harbor, after taking 2,500 prisoners in seizing the adjoining Scheldt estuary island of South Beveland.

Two victorious Allied armies harried the retreat as the battle of the Dutch coastal corner and the related Scheldt estuary action reached the mop up stage. The German defeat means the Allies soon will get the use of the great Belgian port of Antwerp for the flood of supplies to feed the coming drives into the heart of Germany.

A front dispatch said it was estimated that perhaps only 10,000 to 20,000 Germans had been left below the Maas river line to attempt to slow up the pursuit of the victorious Canadian First and British second armies. A British spokesman has said that the bulk of the enemy forces probably would escape across the water barrier.

with untiring intensity to get all type B-24 aircraft in the best possible mechanical condition to insure success of the operation.

"Adverse weather conditions broke up the wing formations of four groups forcing two to return to their bases and causing the other group to return without dropping its bombs. Despite these adverse conditions and well coordinated and vicious attacks by 80 to 90 enemy fighters, the group continued on for a highly successful bombing run, which virtually obliterated the strategic Nazi manufacturing center."

The group entered the Italian campaign in January and has completed more than 115 combat missions over major Nazi targets.

TODAY ON THE War Fronts

WITH THE 24TH DIVISION IN LEYTE VALLEY.—(P)—Machine gunners Pfc. John Worda of San Francisco and Pfc. Robert Middleton of Flint, Mich., got a dream target last night in a Jap attack on their battalion command post.

Worda saw shadowy figures and shouted "Who's there?" The answer came "Three Americanos, your friend."

That was all Worda and Middleton wanted to know. They opened fire. In the morning they counted 50 dead Japanese who had been grouped tightly together directly in front of their gun.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(P)—Russian troops have broken into Keckemet, fourth largest Hungarian city 50 miles southwest of Budapest, in their offensive aimed at the capital, the Berlin radio said today.

However the troops were declared driven out.

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Oct. 31.—(P)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's invasion forces have given him a firm grasp on the Philippines he said today, "and I shall not relax the grip until Bataan and Corregidor once more rise to life."

"Almighty God has blessed our arms," he said in his field dated general order Number one, which praised the men who participated in the invasion for their "determination, fortitude and courage."

Destroy 18 More Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(P)—Destruction of 18 additional Japanese vessels, including one destroyer, by American submarines, was announced by the navy today.

This blow by subsibles battling along the enemy's supply lines, raises to 974 the number of enemy ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged by submarines alone since the war started.

In addition to the destroyer, which presumably was conveying Japanese supply craft, ships in the latest bag included 14 cargo vessels, one tanker, one large transport and a naval auxiliary.

The navy gave no indication of the locale of the operations, beyond saying that the submarines scored their victories in Pacific and Far East waters.

Definite sinkings credited to the submarines on their daring war patrols deep into Japanese territory number 822 ships of all types. In addition the submarines are credited with probably sinking 37 Japanese ships and damaging 115 others.

Prisoners on Western Front

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Paris, Oct. 31.—(P)—The official Allied bag of prisoners on the western front now totals 637,544.

By armies, the figures are: American First Army 199,413. American Third Army 92,950. American Seventh Army 50,916. French First Army 57,939. British Second Army 83,582. Canadian First Army 82,744. American Ninth Army 50,000.

In addition, the 21st army group—the British Second and Canadian First Army—has another 20,000 uncredited prisoners, probably captured by French forces of the interior and turned into the 21st's prisoner pens. The Prisoner First Army—had another Oct. 27 for the British and Canadian armies, and up to Oct. 28 for the other armies.

Japanese Mechanics Two Days Late

WITH THE 24TH DIVISION, LEYTE, Oct. 30.—(Delayed)—(P)—This division jumped so fast in so many directions in the drive across Leyte that it paralyzed Japanese communications and intelligence with said results for 30 enemy mechanics who returned to Pastrana yesterday.

The mechanics drove into the village which the Americans had captured two days previous. Twenty-nine were killed and the other captured.

The captive explained the group had been sent to repair 20 trucks. The Americans had already completed the job and were using the vehicles against their former owners.

Excitement Kills Mother

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31.—(P)—Mrs. Bessie Ruth Hagins, 51, was excited. Her daughter, Lt. Elizabeth Hagins, an army nurse stationed in Belgium, was to be in a film of Red Cross activities.

Battling Typhoon, Japanese

Facing Both U. S. Infantrymen Drive Ahead Toward A Showdown

Japan's armed forces, fighting a passive defense since Guadalcanal, have been forced to "withdraw gradually" and now face a situation which is "regrettably unfavorable to us," Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso told the Japanese people today.

Koiso repeated the Japanese claims of naval victories off Formosa and the Philippines and attributed the "unfavorable" situation to a shortage of materials.

Japanese "officers and men had to die for their nation because we did not send them sufficient material," Koiso said, in urging greater productive effort.

By C. Yates McDaniel

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Oct. 31.—(P)—American infantrymen, battling a typhoon and desperate Japanese delaying tactics, drove ahead through Leyte valley, today toward the island's northwest coast and a possible showdown with cornered but sizable Nipponese forces.

The 24th Division was 10 miles from a juncture with the First Cavalry on Carigera bay, after capturing Jaro, last important inland road juncture, in fierce battling Sunday.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced Japanese casualties on Leyte and Samar total 24,000, against a total of 3,221 for the Americans—706 killed, 270 missing and 2,245 wounded.

Japanese reinforcements from Cebu were landed in darkness at Ormoc, on Leyte's west-central coast. It was possible they were intended to bulwark Nipponese forces who have succeeded in escaping to Carigera bay, which is linked to Ormoc by a twisting mountain highway.

Retiring Toward Bay

Frontline dispatches also reported that between 4,000 and 6,000 Japanese were retiring toward the bay from the central Leyte valley, where organized resistance has been smashed.

The Americans held a tight grip on escape routes, by controlling the main highways and maintaining a P-T boat blockade of Carigera bay. The evidence was the Japanese would be brought to a last stand on the coast.

The fall of Jaro completed American control over major communications throughout the broad Leyte valley. The 24th made a forced 14-mile march to reach the mountain village, and were reinforced by some units of the 21st division who cut across interior trails from the central valley region.

The Japanese also were reinforced, and rear guards hung on until driven out by heavy Yank power.

Typhoon 70 Miles An Hour

Rain-laden typhoon winds, sometimes reaching 70 miles an hour, hammered the battle zones, uprooted buildings and smashed tents in camp areas.

The weather and Japanese delaying action slowed the Yank advance. The Nipponese were resorting to extensive use of land mines and booby traps, as well as local counterattacks, which were repulsed.

Around Dagami, in the central Leyte valley, some 1,500 Japanese were trapped. They were brought under one of the campaign's most comprehensive artillery barrages, a daylong assault by 11 battalions of heavy guns from the 24th Corps.

Japanese aerial activity in the Leyte-Samar area has decreased sharply, the communique said. Six enemy planes were shot down, without American loss.

Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 — GOP leaders on Capitol Hill are delighted at reports from Albany that Governor Dewey has veered away from John F. Dulles as his prospective secretary of state and is looking over Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Sensor Bridges has been a vigorous critic of the administration on domestic affairs but an enthusiastic cooperator on foreign policy and rearmament.

One thing which pleases GOP leaders on Capitol Hill is the idea of a secretary of state selected from the senate. Present members of the senate always have got along well with Cordell Hull, a former senator. Hull speaks their language. So they think a senatorial appointment by Dewey, if elected, would make for better cooperation between the state department and the other end of Pennsylvania avenue.

Yesterday, this column told how the justice department had failed to prosecute certain political cases—chiefly Democratic Congressman Eugene Cox of Georgia, though it had indicted Democratic Congressman Curley of Massachusetts, President Roosevelt's former floor manager at the 1932 convention.

Looking at the Record

Dewey has been talking about cleaning up Washington. Therefore, it is now important to examine the prosecuting record of Governor Dewey on political cases since he became chief executive of New York.

On Sunday evening, Dec. 19, 1943, a delegation of high ranking Republicans called at the governor's mansion in Albany. They included Lieutenant Governor Joe R. Hanley, Speaker Oswald Heck, Majority Leader Irving Ives of the assembly and Senate Majority Leader Benjamin F. Feinberg. They asked Dewey to supercede a grand jury which was to convene on Tuesday, Dec. 21, at 10 a. m.

That grand jury, called by the O'Connell Democratic Administration in Albany, was to probe and prosecute alleged graft and irregularities in the Republican party. Since the Republican party is in control of both houses, naturally it meant that some Republicans would get hit. Panic, therefore, had swept Albany.

So at the unique hour of ten on a Sunday night, Governor Dewey issued an order superseding the local grand jury and setting up two grand juries of his own.

Nothing Important Happens

Those grand juries have been laboring for nearly a year, and nothing of any consequence has happened. A flood of subpoenas has been issued—approximately 5,000. The books of various stores, corporations and hotels, especially the Roosevelt hotel in New York City, have been seized or examined. Legislators claim their telephones have been tapped.

Records of the Roosevelt hotel are reported by investigators especially interesting. One New York state senatorial committee spent several days at the hotel, and afterwards sent in a bill to New York state for several thousand dollars to defray a stay of juvenile delinquency. However, the books of the hotel showed that the money went largely for whiskey, football tickets, flowers, theater tickets and a fur coat.

Several Republicans, plus a few Democrats, were involved. What these purchases had to do with juvenile delinquency is not known. But Governor Dewey's clean-up grand juries to date have done nothing tangible about them.

Tolerance in Albany

Several other New York legislative committees got money for unique purposes, not illegal, but the same type of thing Governor Dewey has rightly criticized in Washington. Apparently, however, they were tolerated in Albany. There was a $10,000 committee to study the rise and fall of the tides on Lake George; a $15,000 committee to examine treaties with Indians; and a $15,000 committee to investigate chiropractors.

Most interesting situation in Albany, however, involves Lieuten-

GERMANY WILL TRY IT AGAIN

By Sigrid Schultz

Copyright, 1944, by Sigrid Schultz; Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

XXVII

FOURTH TROJAN HORSE: RACIAL FRICTION

THE men of the secret general staff rely on the racial prejudice which is in all of us, whether we will admit it or not or whether we even know it. We betray it unwittingly in public and private conversations: "Oh, he is a Jew, but very nice," or "He's a good soldier for a Negro." Then there are the "arrogant" Englishman, the "lazy" Italian, the "mysterious" (meaning untrustworthy) Chinese, the "sex-mad" Frenchman. All these mistaken concepts provide a fine culture for the Nazi virus.

Race friction in the United States which has reached the explosion point, for example among factory workers under wartime stresses, has delighted the Germans. Whether or not the friction is instigated or encouraged by disguised Nazi agents in the United States, as the Sojourner Truth riots were said to be, every such racial rift is another wedge into the unity of the American people.

FIFTH TROJAN HORSE: GERMAN SUPERIORITY

JUST as the professional soldier could not but be impressed by German Blitzkriegs, so the schoolteacher, the professor, who went to Germany was often deeply impressed by the regimentation of youth which made the youth sub-leader and the Nazi teacher more powerful than the family.

Traveling about in the United States, I have been struck by the number of university students and graduates who argue for the German cause—often indoctrinated by professors trained in German universities.

"Look at the great achievements of German scientists, German inventors," we hear, from people who think of the other fellow before their duty to their own people. Yes, one should look at German science and German universities and see what they have done in the last 20 years. They helped make Nazism possible.

SIXTH TROJAN HORSE: WE MUST BE "CHRISTIAN"

WE have already been subjected to Nazi propaganda about who started the war; sometimes it is the Jews, then again British imperialism making us "pull English chests out of the fire"; it is often laid at the door of big business—but never, no, never is it the Germans.

The Germans didn't want the war, we are told; it was forced upon them. Therefore we must be very kind to them or they will revolt.

We hear also a great deal about the difference between the Nazis and the Germans. But the secret general staff who spawned the Nazis, and the Nazis themselves, are Germans. And they have decimated the decent elements of the population with cold precision.

There has been enough voluntary co-operation with the Nazis among the German people to make it imperative for us to remain on guard for years to come.

Any attempt to belittle or gloss over the dark deeds of the Germans against citizens of foreign lands, and against some of their own countrymen, would be to throw away the peace in advance.

SEVENTH TROJAN HORSE: DISTRUST OF OUR ALLIES

WHEN we hear this or that supposedly well-informed person claim that the "British are ready to fight to the last American," or that "the Russians are just waiting to drive the Germans out, then they'll sign a separate peace with them," how many of us insist on learning our informant's sources or evidence? Few of us bother to figure out the ultimate purpose of the claim, or what parallel line might be used in allied countries to discredit our own effort.

Some of us worry about being "cheated" by Lend-Lease. Can we doubt that the nations which enjoy Lend-Lease privileges hear enemy inspired whispers to the effect that "America is getting rich at the expense of her allies?"

It is only human for allies to mistrust each other. It has always been so. And the Germans can draw on years of experience and psychological training in that very subtle business of poisoning the minds of allies against each other.

EIGHTH TROJAN HORSE: ONLY GERMAN INDUSTRIES CAN REBUILD EUROPE

WHILE American, British, and Russian planes were bombing the industrial centers of Germany, one could hear well-meaning people urge that they must quickly be rebuilt for the rehabilitation of the rest of Europe.

They were unwittingly furthering the pan-German cause.

How many of us said, "We must help the French to get back from the Germans the machinery stolen from their factories?" Or "We must help them rebuild their ruined industrial plants?" Or the Poles? And what about the Czech industries? Why must German industries supply most of the manufactures for Europe? The very core of the Nazi plan to make Europe a German continent centered around domination by German industry, relegating all other countries to raw material or agricultural supply areas.

Another man who helped put young Hanley on the payroll is former deputy state comptroller Charlie Mullins who, when called before the grand jury, refused to waive his immunity and would not testify.

It is not the purpose of this column to pass on the merits of the alleged case against Lieutenant Governor Hanley or any other New York legislator. Their activities were similar to some of the petty operations, nepotism and lobbying which this column also has exposed in Washington and which Governor Dewey quite rightly has promised to clean up. The point is that close to home in Albany he hasn't cleaned up—yet.

Society and Clubs

Osage Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. C. L. Hanley, 906 West Seventh street. The regent, Mrs. W. L. Layne, presided.

The program was opened by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," followed by a prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. J. E. Golladay. After the pledge of allegiance to the flag, Mrs. W. T. Bishop, historian, asked those having interesting ancestry charts to bring them to the next meeting, and by recommendation of the board asked each member to contribute five cents toward a fund for a stained glass window to be placed in a building to be erected to house the Washington Memorial National Carillon at Valley Forge.

Mrs. Linden Lee Jones reported a generous response in the purchase of symphony tickets.

Mrs. William Terrill read a letter from Mrs. Agler of Belleville, Ill., whose son, John Allen Agler, is one of three navy boys to whom the chapter is to send birthday cards and gifts at Christmas. Mrs. George Bichsel reported sending each of these boys a Christmas box containing cigarettes, shaving cream, writing paper, hard candies, chewing gum and soap.

A letter was read by Mrs. P. H. Handley from the School of the Ozarks and urged each member to contribute to the annual Thanksgiving box to be sent the school. Contributions are to be left at the public library in care of Miss Nettie Lamm.

The regent expressed her sympathy with that of the chapter in the death of their aunt, Mrs. Marshall Rush, who had frequently visited Osage chapter and has been an outstanding member of the D. A. R.

The highlight of the afternoon's program was an interesting discussion on the subject of "Allied Activities in the Pacific Area" by Miss Hazel Gray, history instructor at Smith-Cotton high school. She revealed many interesting facts concerning the islands in the Pacific that heretofore have been unknown, and have come into prominence since the beginning of the war with Japan.

The meeting was closed with the singing of "God Bless America."

The following hostesses assisted in serving refreshments during the social hour: Miss Tracy Berry, Mrs. W. E. Hurlbut, Mrs. Elza Berry and Mrs. Ruth Riley.

Miss Minnie Alper, state case-work supervisor of Jefferson City, was the speaker at Sorosis Monday afternoon on the subject of "State Institutions and State Casework." Personal experience and a thorough study of her work enabled her to explain Social Welfare Work, its growth, its accomplishments and its great needs, in a very enlightening talk.

Miss Alper, who was introduced by Mrs. Abe Bertman, chairman of the Civics department, told of the trend to remove people from institutions by finding other means of taking care of them. From Colonial times, she said, there has been an attempt to take care of those who were not able to take care of themselves but the institutions housed old people, children, feeble minded and others in the same institution.

Today they are getting away from institutions. There are now institutions for the insane in which they receive specialized treatment, there are penal institutions for those who disturb others, there are still institutions for children.

There was a federal program of social welfare set up in 1935 and in 1937 it began in Missouri. Miss Alper stated that it has accomplished a great deal in that short time, but there are still many things that were lacking. There is now a staff of 1,295. They are not high salaried and thus do not stay with the work. They must be trained in the work. There are policies and procedures which they must follow.

The old age assistance is not adequate the maximum being $30 and the average $22, and the assistance to children is pitifully small, she said.

Miss Alper was particularly interested in the welfare of the children. Children, she said, are future citizens, they need to be reared in homes. They should be kept with their families and if they have no families then they should be with other families. It may do some children good to stay in an institution for a short time but it is not good for any child to stay on for several years. They need a home and love. Most people want to adopt babies, she said, but there are few babies for adoption. There are older children who need the homes. Many times they are homely little things, sick or afflicted and nobody wants them. But they, too, need love and understanding. They are often placed in boarding homes until sometime when they fit better in other homes.

Delinquent children, she said, are often not delinquent — instead they are neglected children. Most children classed as delinquents lack understanding. They come from poor home surroundings, from broken homes, from homes where there is no training and no love.

Children as young as eight and nine are sometimes placed in institutions for delinquent children. Children in any kind of an institution sometimes lose completely the feeling of being an individual and when they reach adulthood do not quite find their place in the world — they never have known a home and cannot adjust themselves to normal happy home life.

She said: "You can start building a road, quit, and continue it ten years later — but not the life of a child. The scars on its life remain."

Miss Etta Hurley, chairman of the Current Topics committee, announced that Mrs. H. E. Lindstrom would speak next Monday on: "The Influence of the Geography of Russia Upon its People."

Mrs. E. F. Dillon, of Smithton entertained with a surprise party Wednesday evening, October 18, in honor of her daughter, Mildred, in celebration of her birthday anniversary.

Guests were Mrs. Paul Selken, Mrs. Charles Bluhm, Mrs. Joe Vertz, Misses Verona Neumeyer, Clara Lindeman, Mary Louise Eddy, Netty Griffin, Ruth Evelyn Williams, Louise and Lorene Hoernan.

The evening was spent in conversation and games after which refreshments were served. The table decorations consisted of autumn flowers and leaves and miniature pumpkins.

Miss Betty Bob Scotten was hostess at a 7:30 o'clock buffet dinner Sunday evening at her home, 712 South Ohio avenue.

Guests were Jack Delph of Sedalia, a Navy V-12 student stationed in Tennessee, Helen Miller, Doris Boone, Charles Rucker and Van Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Raut of Sedalia and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lamm of Smithton were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lamm of Smithton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brubaker, Sixteenth street and Grand avenue, were surprised Sunday when three of their daughters came to spend the day with them. They were Mrs. R. G. Wiley, Mr. Wiley and son, Dick of Columbia; Miss Helen Brubaker, of Jefferson City and Mrs. Walter Banning and children Ralph and Emily of route 5, Sedalia.

Mrs. Lela Groody, of San Francisco, Calif., a former Sedalia resident, who attended school here, is back visiting her sister, Mrs. J. O. Durham, of 1704 South Montebau avenue, and several entertaining events have been enjoyed by the visitor.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Richard Durham entertained with a wiener roast at the Lone Pine farm of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morris, east of Sedalia. They are parents of Mrs. Richard Durham.

Fourteen were present and under a bright moon the occasion was a pleasurable one.

Monday Mrs. Groody was a luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Spencer.

Miss Bernice Williams, daughter of Elmer Williams of Tipton, and Raymond Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wolf, also of Tipton, were married Saturday, October 16, at the Catholic rectory by the Rev. H. J. Briet, who used the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white wool suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage. She was attended by Mrs. Kathryn Thoma, who wore light blue with a red rosebud corsage.

Arnold Miller attended Mr. Wolf.

The bridegroom's parents honored the newly weds with a dinner, seating 60 guests.

Mr. Wolf is a partner with his brother, Lester Wolf, in a repair shop.

The bride and groom are at home in Tipton.

Erratic driving proves so inefficient in Wartime that it's no longer favored anytime.

Deftness is the style in motoring. Tactics like swooping in and out of line seem wasted, when the little coupe—from miles behind—presently shows up anyway in the "thrill-driver's" mirror.

That's skill—making a steady good average; not leaping and bounding to make it up. You'll show still greater regard for dutiful mechanism by having your engine OIL-PLATED—internally surfaced to resist corrosion by the unavoidable acids of combustion.

Changing to Conoco Nth motor oil will automatically give you an OIL-PLATED engine. Costly pioneer research created the special Conoco Nth ingredient that gives this popular-priced oil its magnet-like action. And that's what joins OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if to stay.

Acids stay too, these days—infesting every cylinder in unreasonable quantities. Former chances of ousting corrosive acids are decreased these days by low engine temperatures—longer stretches of standing cold—mileage limitations of any kind. But you can keep your engine's fine inner finish under cover of protective OIL-PLATING—resisting corrosion! Just change to Conoco Nth motor oil at Your Mileage Merchant's. Continental Oil Company entatives in Chungking.

Usually well informed sources, whose reports the Associated Press believes reliable, stated that Kung telegraphed Chiang that Harry Hopkins had informed him that there was no cause for alarm in the American attitude and that if Chiang would hold out determinedly, he would win all points.

Not Fooling

Learning of these reports, the American negotiators evidently obtained a flat statement from the president in a message that he was not fooling and backed the negotiators at that point fully.

As their part in the bargaining, the Americans had the power to withhold lease lend supplies and to withdraw Maj. Gen. Claire L.
Chennault and his U. S. 14th air force from China.

Finally, an agreement was then reached which included among other things that an American would be given command of Chinese field forces. It was a large pill to swallow, but in the interests of harmony all around, Chiang evidently agreed at one stage to take it and keep the war going at top speed. He agreed to give Stilwell command of Chinese field forces with the comment that he would "give him my full confidence."

Then a reaction set in. To the amazement of all the negotiators, Chiang declared that Stilwell must go. He cited charges. For security reasons the nature of the charges can not be disclosed.

Did Not Accept Charges

The generalissimo was adamant and the United States representatives were faced with capitulation on this point or a break in the policy of supporting Chiang's government. A few days ago, Stilwell was relieved of his command and left for America. But Chiang was specifically informed that the United States did not accept his charges against Stilwell.

In China, Chiang evidently gained great "face" by the maneuver which is looked upon in many Chinese and American quarters as capitulation.

Generally it is recognized that much time has been lost through the disagreements and that the American hope of close and harmonious relationship with the Chinese central government has been greatly shaken.

Already around Chungking and at air bases there is much discussion of who is to blame for the defeats in central China. Many Chinese complain that Stilwell and the United States have failed in the delivery of adequate supplies. The old bitterness between Stilwell and Chennault is endlesly revived.

Critical Opinion

Critics of Stilwell insist that if he had turned over to Chennault all the capacity of the "Hump" airline Chennault's air force could have kept the Japanese away from advanced American bases in central China, which recently have fallen to the enemy.

Supporters of Stilwell and some within Chennault's own official family have argued that an air force alone cannot protect bases and that the weak Chinese performance during the past summer had tested Chennault's contention and found it wanting.

Meantime the Japanese have most of the bases and the Americans have most of the dissension and disappointment.

Work In Holland

In Holland, he said, "a great deal of work has to be done to improve the ports and build up supplies and concentrate forward the ever growing Allied army."

In Italy, he conceded the fighting
"is also of the most obstinate character and the weather has

The measure extending the life of Parliament for a year was read formally twice without a divisional vote. It must be read a third time before being sent to the House of Lords. Lack of opposition today indicated that step would be a formality.

Urging qualified extension of Britain's nine-year parliament for another year, he said that "roughly speaking there is no likelihood of a general election for from seven to nine months from now," and warned that "those who force such a disaster would take upon themselves immense responsibility."

"It seems to me," said Churchill, "that unless all political parties resolve to maintain the present coalition until the Japanese are defeated, we must look to the termination of the war against Nazism as a pointer which will fix the date of the general election."

Bradshaw in St. Louis

Jean Paul Bradshaw, Republican nominee for governor, speaking at St. Louis last night, lashed out again at the Pendergast organization. He asserted that the "revived Pendergast machine's biggest effort in this campaign is directed toward electing its candidate for governor, my opponent, because of two local boards in Kansas City, the board of election commissioners and the board of police commissioners."

"If the Pendergast machine could gain control of these two boards," Bradshaw said, "it would be on the high road to a real comeback in Missouri. Those two boards would be more important to the Pendergast machine than state patronage."

Bradshaw did not mention the name of his Democratic opponent.

Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, 1944 Democratic national convention keynote, was scheduled to speak at a Moberly rally tonight after a stop at Kansas City during the day.

Names Called By Bricker

Tries To Show
Tie-Up With Radical Group

By E. E. Easterly

DETROIT, Oct. 31.—(P)—Gov. John Bricker, seeking to show a tieup between the new deal and a "foreign influence," declared Monday night that a secretary to Pres. Roosevelt was listed among federal employees with "subversive records."

The Republican nominee for vice president named seven such persons in a recitation of "facts" which he said "conclusively prove that Franklin Roosevelt and the new deal are in the hands of the radicals and the Communists."

"Today, as never before," he asserted in a prepared speech released by his campaign staff, "a foreign influence of the most subversive kind is trying to take over our American government by boring from within."

The Ohio governor, concluding a 10,000-mile western campaign tour which has taken him into 22 states since Oct. 1, picked this area of strong labor organizations to analyze what he called "the actual working relationship between PAC (Political Action Committee) and the Communists on one hand and the federal government on the other."

Refers To Dies Group

"Evidence presented to the Dies committee," he said, "showed that at least 82 leaders of the PAC have been affiliated with organizations listed by Attorney General Biddle as Communist front organizations."

Relating that Chairman Martin Dies of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities had supplied the Attorney General with names of 1124 federal employees "who were members of subversive organizations," Bricker listed these as "typical examples":

"Gene Mangione, immigration specialist, immigration and naturalization service; Lauchlin Currie, secretary to the President; Gregory Silvermaster, economist selected by the treasury department as envoy to the Bretton Woods conference;

"Craig Vincent, chief, manning division, war shipping administration; Arthur Goldschmidt, assistant chief of power, interior department; Robin Kinkead, office of war information in San Francisco, and Thomas I. Emerson, counsel, office of price administration."

Of the 1124 persons reported to Attorney General Biddle, Bricker said, two were dismissed and one was disciplined.

The Ohioan asserted that "the man behind Franklin Roosevelt is Sidney Hillman," chairman of the PAC, and "the man behind Sidney Hillman is Earl Browder," director of the Communist political association.

Swear In The Mayor Of Aachen

AACHEN, Germany, Oct. 31.—(P)—Aachen's first mayor since the city fell to the Americans, is a slight, bald, anti-Nazi lawyer of about 40 years. He was sworn in Monday.

Nervous and apprehensive, he took the oath in front of the American flag to perform the duties of Burgomeister conscientiously, to obey all orders of the military government, and not to act in any manner to the prejudice of the military government in this ruined city. Aachen now has less than 3,000 of its former 166,000 population.

In the brief, bleak ceremony, he stood with clasped hands and answered "ja" when the oath was read to him by Lt. Col. A. A. Carmichael of Montgomery, Ala.

"Have you a house?" someone asked.

"Ja, a house, but not standing," he answered, and then he turned

DEWEY

PLEDGE TO LABOR

GOVERNOR THOMAS E. DEWEY, Republican Presidential nominee, minced no words when declaring his position on labor in an address at Seattle, Washington, Sept. 18. Governor Dewey intends to bring the U. S. Department of Labor back to the status for which it was created—to administer the affairs of labor.

Governor Dewey pledges himself to abolish the many multiple agencies set up by the New Deal to pass on labor-management relations, but functioning more to retard than expedite labor problems. The Republican candidate for the Presidency of the United States, has promised the American people that he will select as Secretary of Labor, a man from the ranks of Labor.

"Among the things which have been holding us back here at home is an Administration Labor Policy which has bred class division, hate and insecurity. I can say without qualification that the labor policy of this administration has been one of delays, bungling and incompetence. It has put untold obstacles in the way of labor's effort to avoid wartime strikes. It has fostered strife between one labor group and another, between labor and business and between both and government."

—THOMAS E. DEWEY

States Pearl Harbor Facts Concealed

GOP Chairman Says Secrecy No Longer Necessary

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., declared Monday that "the truth is still concealed" about Pearl Harbor.

"I do not know and the American people do not know who was the commander-in-chief at Pearl Harbor," Brownell said in a statement to party workers summarizing the campaign. "I only know that every new dealer in the Congress has fought bitterly to prevent the court martial which would fix the responsibility wherever it belongs. Long ago the time passed when there was no reason of secrecy to prevent the trial. Yet the truth is still concealed."

Brownell, predicting the Republicans would get a "three to four per cent greater plurality than 's shown by any of the polls," said "the big break of the campaign" came when the President "who had said he would not campaign in the usual sense because he did not consider it fitting 'in these days of tragic sorrow' open-

Says Democrats On Defense

"This speech in the midst of war insulted the intelligence and violated the sense of decency and fitness of the American people," Brownell said. "He made the additional mistake of hurling charges of falsification at Governor Dewey."

Brownell said that Dewey's reply at Oklahoma City in which he "tore into the record of the new deal x x x put the whole Democratic campaign on a defensive from which it has never recovered."

Commenting on the President's later speeches, Brownell said Mr. Roosevelt "personally took credit for all of America's magnificent war effort."

"Skipping lightly over the years before Pearl Harbor during which he failed to prepare the country," Brownell said, "he painted a picture in which the American people were expected to believe that he personally built every airplane launched every ship and forged every cannon."

Brownell said the Democratic organization "has literally fallen

Hope Reform For Walsh

Truman Calls For Endorsing FDR Record

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 31.—(P)—Senator Harry S. Truman carried his vice presidential campaign into Rhode Island Monday night with a plea for endorsement of what he called President Roosevelt's "superb leadership" after asserting he had hope of "reform for Senator Walsh (D-Mass) to whom he attributed an "isolationist" record.

In a prepared speech to a Democratic rally in the Pawtucket stadium, the Democratic vice presidential candidate declared that "it is always poor policy to send in substitutes when you have a winning team on the field," and added:

"You cannot take a chance on inexperienced leadership in the midst of a great war when the lives of our fighting men and the future of the nation are at stake."

It was at an earlier press conference that Truman told Joseph H.H. Short, a reporter for the Baltimore Sun, that Walsh, whose endorsement of the national Democratic ticket Truman accepted yesterday at Lawrence, Mass., had a record as "an isolationist."

Short had asked Truman "the difference between the isolationist record of Senator Walsh, and that of the eight Republican senators" Truman has asked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican standard bearer, to "repudiate."

Sees Chance To Reform
"No difference," Truman replied, "except that Senator Walsh has two years to serve and we have a chance to reform him." Later, he added that "from the cordiality of Senator Walsh's introduction, I think we have a very good chance." He said Walsh would speak for himself over the radio Thursday.

Walsh announced his support of Democratic state and national tickets in introducing Truman to a Democratic rally at Lawrence.

In his speech tonight, Truman asserted that President Roosevelt "has co-ordinated our efforts with those of our Allies, so that the heaviest hammer-like blows can be struck at our enemies, and added:

"The Republican party asks you to elect to high office two men, neither of whom ever had any experience in military affairs and neither of whom ever had any experience in either national or international affairs."

Asserting that while Democratic "isolationists" have been defeated in party primaries those in control in the Republican party and "the isolationist press" have succeeded in nominating either Republican senators who have demonstrated opposition to a strong foreign policy, Truman continued:

"We cannot trust Republicans like Gerald Nye (Republican senator, North Dakota) and Charles Tobey (Republican senator, New Hampshire) to help carry out the President's program and prevent the spilling of more American blood in a third great war."

Club Studies Food Conservation

Mrs. R. P. Wood was hostess to the October meeting of the Look-out Hustlers club. Members answered roll call by telling how they conserve food.

Various reports were given, plans were made for the community Christmas dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. L. Arnett December 21 and a poem, "Tis My Opinion," was read by Mrs. A. Streeter. Mrs. Arnett gave a demonstration on sewing hints.

Refreshments were served. The November meeting will be held with Mrs. Walter Wear.

With one exception, all woods burn better the older and dried they are. Only the ash makes better fuel when burned green.

The cloth in four "zoot suits" would make five victory suits.

The Great Corn

HOME GROWN BY PEPPARDS—
MASTER SEEDSMEN FOR 58 YEARS

Every strain of Funk G is bred to resist drouth. Home grown by Peppards, master seedsmen for 58 years, Peppard's Funk G Hybrid is better adapted to growing conditions of this region. Pick the strain best suited to your soil and you can depend upon The Great Corn to make a better crop in good years and bad.

Developed from inbred lines that survive infestations—The Great Corn is scientifically bred to better resist insects. This remarkable characteristic of Peppard's Funk G home grown hybrid affords protection that growers of this region cannot afford to be without.

Heavy stalks anchored by a far flung root system give Peppard's Funk G Hybrid the strength to withstand winds of gale speed. When hot winds blow, the heavily laden tassels of The Great Corn manage to shed enough pollen to set grain on shoots while the leaves resist firing and continue to help the roots feed the plant.

High germination, true drop planter grading, fast early growth, high pollinating ability. These are some of the qualities of Peppard's home grown Funk G Hybrid which give it the power to yield an extra acre from every bushel of seed. Thus The Great Corn prevents waste of field space, labor and tillage costs.

It takes just so many man hours, just so many horse or tractor hours, to grow an acre of corn. But, by investing in Peppard's Funk G Hybrid home grown seed corn, you increase yield 15% to 30%. That cuts your growing cost per bushel—often to a point where one acre of The Great Corn is as profitable as two acres of open pollinated.

There is more Peppard home grown Funk G Hybrid seed corn this year. But—the swing to The Great Corn continues at a faster clip than ever. So don't wait until we can no longer take your reservation. Be sure. Place your order with us today—by telephone if you're not coming our way. Whatever you do, don't delay.
